

HOGAN TECHNOLOGY ANNOUNCES THE OPENING OF A NEW BRANCH LOCATION IN NORTH MYRTLE BEACH, SOUTH CAROLINA

EASTHAMPTON, MA— April 19, 2012 — Hogan Technology, formerly Hogan Communications is pleased the opening of a new branch office and managed support facility in North Myrtle Beach. The new office supports a variety of applications in Hogan Technology’s business model. The office is a disaster recovery facility, creating a fully redundant office that can support our customers and our Easthampton office. The office is staffed with dedicated help desk technicians that support everyday support at Hogan and also creates a true physically redundant failover in case of a regional outage in New England. The owners, Sean and Andy Hogan saw the need to create a physically redundant support solution in response to the critical weather conditions that New England faced in 2011.

Their data and voice solutions are completely survivable in case of a regional emergency. That way Hogan always has the ability to support and connect to our customers.

Sean Hogan was asked to comment on the new facility and he was quoted on saying, “we need to have the ability to connect to our customers 24/7/365, our SC office gives us that capability<sup>3</sup>, we also plan on creating a sales presence in the SC office and hiring positions for sales and technical.” He added, “Our business is not regional anymore, we support customers throughout the country with our affiliations, technology can be supported from anywhere and we need to have the team in place to service our customers.
